

OBITUARY

Jim was originally from Bexley, Ohio, and lived with his wife Dorothy in Westerville for many of their 38 years of marriage.

Jim was profoundly deaf from infancy.

He went to a boarding school for the hearing impaired in Massachusetts until he was 16 years old, and he graduated from the Columbus Academy. He went on to receive a bachelor's degree in Mathematics from Ohio Wesleyan, and a master's degree in Deaf Education from Ohio State. He taught deaf students for 12 years before becoming interested in computer technology, where he received two associate degrees in computer web design from Columbus State. He worked at AOL, Nationwide, and Vineyard Columbus as their webmaster for 12 years.

Jim loved to be outside and take long walks, he was an avid runner and completed several marathons. His summers were spent in Maine with family and friends on Webb Lake in the mountains.

He is survived by: his wife, Dorothy Jones, siblings: John (Iris), Richard (Ann), and Kate (Ferd) Schoedinger, sister-in-law Lesley Jones, and many beloved nieces and nephews.
